"IT TELLS THE TRUTH."

"DOUNE TERRACE, EDINBURGH.

—Dear Sir, I cannot speak too highly of the great value of your NERVETONINE. It has done me a great deal of good, and I bless the day I saw your advertisement—it is not like most advertisements—it tells the truth. I shall highly recommend it wherever I go, for it is a wonderful medicine for Nervous Complaints.—Thanking you, I am, Yours truly, A—D—."

DR. ANDREW WILSON, F.R.C.S
EDITOR OF "HEALTH," SAYS—

"Under this designation, Mr. M. F. THOMPSON, Chemist, 17 Gordon Street, Glasgow, has produced a tonic which appears to us to be well adapted for the treatment of nervous debility, want of tone, and other ailments of allied nature to those whereof nerve-exhaustion is a prominent feature, &c."

"Cardiff, December 26, 1890.
—Dear Sir, I am very thankful to say that the Nervetonine I got from you a short time ago has completely cured my daughter of her rheumatism. She is now up and at her work, and feels not the slightest pain or stiffness. It is now eighteen months since she had to leave her work, six months of which she never left her bed. We never expected to see her walk again. Accept our sincerest thanks.

F—H—."

One of the Royal Irish Constabulary writes— "Please send me by next post one bottle of your Nervetonine at 2s 9d., the amount you will find enclosed.

I have derived great benefit from your Nervetonine for nervousness."

Nervetonine is a positive, safe, and permanent cure for all Nervous Affections, Nervous Exhaustion, Nervous Debility, Mental Depression, Hysteria, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, &c.

Nervetonine is a very Powerful Brain Feeder, a Nerve and Muscle Strengthener, a Blood Nourisher, and a Stomach Reviver.

Nervetonine is invaluable in all diseases of the Digestive System, Indigestion, with coated tongue and bitter taste in the mouth, Frontal Headache, Loss of Appetite, Habitual Constipation, &c.

All forms of Nerve Pains, Neuralgia, Toothache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Gout, and Sciatica are instantly relieved and Permanently Cured with Nervetonine.

For further particulars, see M. F. Thompson's "Guide to Health," gratis to all who mention this Book.

A Y R S H I R E.

THIS is a populous maritime county, on the western coast of the low-lands, stretching upwards of seventy miles along the shore of the Firth of Clyde, from Kelly Burn on the north, to Galloway Burn, which enters Loch Ryan, on the south; its middle part, which is the broadest, extends about twenty miles across. It is bounded on the north and north-east by the small county of Renfrew, on the east by the counties of Lanark and Dumfries, on the south-east by the stewartry of Kirkcudbright, and on the south by Wigtownshire. The superficial extent of the county comprises about 1050 square miles of land, and six lakes. It is divided into three principle or grand districts—Carrick, Cunningham, and Kyle. The first lies on the southern side of the Doon; the second comprehends the whole of the county north of the river Irvine, and Kyle division is situate between the rivers Doon and Irvine.

Produce, Manufactures, Minerals, &c.—Observing the peculiarities of the climate, and ascertaining the nature of the soil, the judicious culture of the various species of grasses became a primary object, and the general adoption of dairy farms was the natural consequence; this system has been preserved in, and the dairies in this district are superior, perhaps, to any others in Scotland: the value of their produce in milk and butter is very considerable, and “Dunlop” cheese is unrivalled throughout the country, finding a ready market wheresoever offered, and Ayrshire may now be reckoned as the Cheshire of Scotland. The Cheddar method has been very generally introduced, and with very great success; so that Cheddar cheese is one of the staple productions of the county. The breed of cattle has likewise been much improved; the Ayrshire shorthorns being much prized both for the purposes of the dairy and the butcher. As agriculture thus successfully progressed, excellent roads were formed, and these have been followed up by railways for the transmission of goods and persons; a line was formed as far as Girvan, but is now carried on to Stranraer, and from thence to Portpatrick. From the fostered spirit of industry, and the enhanced value of land, resulted in a corresponding exertion for the establishment of manufactures; the abundance of fuel, the plenty and cheapness of the necessaries of life, materials for building, and means of transit to the large towns in adjacent shires, presented facilities for this purpose which were obvious and encouraging. The manufacture of stockings, carpets, cloths, and bonnets extended generally, but Kilmarnock became the most noted. At the capital of the county have been established dye works, woollen manufactories and chemical works; at Catrine, well-known and extensive cotton works; at Old Cummock is an extensive pottery and a woollen manufactory; at Irvine, chemical manufactories, iron forges, and likewise a chain, cable, and anchor works: and Muirkirk is noted for its ponderous iron works.

AYRSHIRE—CONTINUED.

The whole of Ayrshire was formerly comprehended in the bishopric of Glasgow; and it formed three deaneries, corresponding with the three divisions before mentioned. The county now comprises forty-six parishes, forming two presbyteries in the synod of Ayr and Glasgow.

ARDROSSAN.

A WATERING place and maratime port in parish of its name, is pleasantly situated on the western shore of Ayrshire, on an accessible point of the coast, and only a mile west of Saltcoats, which occupies another promotory; is 74 miles s.w. of Edinburgh, 30 s.w. of Glasgow, 25 s.s.w. of Paisley, and 8 n. by w. of Irvine. The town is built upon a plan of regularity and taste, the houses being all of stone and of commanding altitude. The visitants in the bathing season will find all the appliances necessary to their enjoyment. The baths include the customary varieties, and are enclosed in a handsome building, both spacious and commodious. The town is chiefly indebted for its existence to the noble family of Eglington, who had formerly a castle of great strength and extent in the vicinity, but which is now a ruin, the earl having a mansion in the town.

The Tide harbour will contain from 50 to 69 vessels. The dock occupies an extent of seven Scotch acres, and will admit 50 vessels of from three to six hundred tons burthen and upwards. Steamers ply regularly between Ardrossan and several parts of Ireland; there is daily intercourse during the greater part of the year between it and the Island of Arran; and the steamers plying between Ayr and Glasgow call at the port during the summer months.

A fair is held on the Tuesday before Ayr, which is in July. There is also a weekly grain market.

AUCHINLECK—SEE CUMNOCK, OLD.

A Y R,

NEWTON and WALLACETOWN, PRESTWICK and MONKTON, and the Parishes of AYR, NEWTON, MONKTON, and ST. QUIVOX, and Surrounding Neighbourhoods.

AYR is a royal burgh, and the capital of the county and parish of that name, 77 miles w.s.w. of Edinburgh, 33 s.s.w. of Glasgow, 34 s.s.w. of Paisley, 12 s.s.w. of Kilmarnock, and 11 s. of Irvine; situated in the northwest angle of the parish, where the river Ayr flows past it into the Firth of Clyde.

An extensive trade is carried on in the export of coal from this place to Ireland. Mines of this article, as well as fine quarries of stone, abound in the neighbourhood. The other principal exports consist of iron, coal-tar, lamp-black, and water of Ayr stone. Its imports comprise hides, tallow, barley, yarn, linen, spars, deals, and hemp. The convenience for shipping is superior to most of the towns on the coast, as the harbour has been much improved by carrying an extensive stone pier into the sea, affording a greater depth of water for vessels entering, and security when in the harbour.

There are two weekly markets in the town—Tuesday for grain, cattle, and dairy produce, and Friday for the sale of dairy produce, poultry, and general business.

NEWTON parish is divided from that of Ayr by the river, over which there is a handsome bridge of modern erection. On the Newton or north side of the river Ayr, are the principal manufactures of the town. There are several chemical works, a carpet manufactory, lace works, and several other manufacturing establishments. The railway communicates on this side with the harbour and new dock, and, in consequence, the mineral products of the upper portion of the county are mostly shipped here.

SAIN'T QUIVOX, a populous parish in the district of Kyle, lies on the banks of the Ayr river, and is bounded on the east by Tarbolton, and on the west by Newton of Ayr and Monkton. The parish, which is nearly all arable, is finely enclosed, and beautified by plantations.

WALLACETOWN consists of a number of streets adjoining to Newton, and is in the parish of St. Quivox.

PRESTWICK is one mile and a-half from Ayr. There are fine golf links at Prestwick, where the ancient game has been played for a long time. There is a station on the Glasgow and South-Western line of railway.

MONKTON, a parish in the district of Kyle, lies on the sea coast, betwixt Symington and Dundonald on the north, and Newton and St. Quivox on the south. The village of Monkton is situated on the high road to Glasgow, and distant four miles from Ayr. There is a station on the Glasgow and South-Western railway, about a mile from the village.

Royal Exchange Assurance Corporation

Established by Charter of King George the First and Confirmed by Special Acts of Parliament

FOR

SEA, FIRE, LIFE, AND ANNUITIES.

Chief Office, - Royal Exchange, London, E.C.

Life, Fire, and Marine Policies

have been issued by the Royal Exchange Assurance for nearly 170 YEARS.

Fire Department.

Policies may be taken out in special cases for less than one year.

Persons taking out Policies for Seven Years at once are allowed an abatement equal to one years charge.

Losses by Lightning are made good.

Farming Stock is insured at 5/- per cent. per annum, and no extra charge is made for the use of Steam Thrashing Machines.

Life Department.

WHOLE LIFE ASSURANCE, ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE, SHORT TERM ASSURANCE, AND CHILDREN'S ENDOWMENTS.

The Corporation affords security of the highest order, and declares bonuses exceeding the average distributions of Assurance Companies, while it charges very moderate rates of premium. It is also one of the oldest and wealthiest of Life Offices.

There is no older Life Office in existence.

The Accumulated Funds amount to over £4,000,000.

The Total Claims paid have exceeded Thirty Five Millions Sterling.

BARR HILL, COLMONELL, and Neighbourhoods.

BALLANTRAE is a small seaport in the parish of that name, 105 miles s.w. from Edinburgh, 68 s.w. from Glasgow, 31 s. of Ayr, 24 n.n.e. of Portpatrick, 18 n. of Stranraer, 13 s. by w. of Girvan, and 25 s.s.w. of Maybole, situated near the south-western extremity of the county, and on the banks of the river Stinchar, which here falls into the Firth of Clyde. Ballantrae, with its beautiful land and sea scenery, is rapidly rising as a favourite resort for visitors.

COLMONELL is a parish bounded on the north and west by the mouth of the Clyde; the village, which is pleasantly situated and is much frequented by visitors during the summer months, is 5 miles e. by n. of Ballantrae, on the north bank of the Stinchar. There are four quarterly cattle markets at the village of BARR HILL, 8 miles distant, in this parish.

BARR HILL—SEE BALLANTRAE.

BEITH AND NEIGHBOURHOOD.

BEITH is a market and post town, in the parish of that name, district of Cunningham, 62 miles w. by s. of Edinburgh, 19½ s.w. of Glasgow, 11 s.s.w. of Paisley, 5 n. by e. of Dalry, and 12 n. by e. of Saltcoats. It is situated near the confines of Renfrewshire, on an eminence commanding a fine and extensive view of the beautifully diversified country around, of which the Loch of Kilbirnie, at the distance of about a mile, forms a charming feature. It is a place noted for its manufacture of linen thread, silk printing, leather and tanning, cabinet, upholstery, couches, chairs, ropes twines, lime burning, curling stones, and boots and shoes. Railway accomodation is amply supplied by the Glasgow and South-Western Railway Coy., and the Glasgow, Barrhead, and Kilmarnock Joint Railway. The whole of the parish of Beith is enclosed and arable, and dairy farming is extensively carried on. The neighbourhood of Beith produces coal and abundance of limestone. The market is held on Friday; and the fairs on the first Fridays in January and February, and the first Friday after the 12th of May (old style), on the 30th of August, and the first Friday after the 12 November (old style).

CUMNOCK (OLD) AND AUCHINLECK,

With the Villages of CRONBERRY, DARNSCONNER, LUGAR, and Neighbourhoods.

CUMNOCK (or OLD CUMNOCK) is a market and post town, in the parish of its name, 60 miles s.w. of Edinburgh, 16 e. of Ayr, and the same distance s.s.e. of Kilmarnock, situated on the road between Dumfries on the south-east and Glasgow on the north, 44 miles from the former town and 38 from the latter. The Glasgow and South-Western Railway line having a station half-a-mile east, and the Ayr and Douglas line has a station a quarter of a mile south of the Town. The manufacturing of various kinds of woollen fabrics, wool spinning and dyeing have been introduced, and promise an important addition to the trade and industry of the place.

The Market at Cumnock is held on Thursday, and the fairs on the fourth Thursday after Candlemas, the Thursday after the 6th of March, the Wednesday after the 6th of June, the 13th of July, and the 27th of October.

AUCHINLECK is a parish 18 miles in length by only about two in breadth, watered on its northern extremity by the Ayr, and the Lugar on the south. The village is situated a mile from Old Cumnock and about 3 from Sorn and Catrine. Close to the village is a station on the Glasgow and South-Western line of Railway. A fair for the sale of lambs is held annually on the last Tuesday in August.

LUGAR, is situated in the above parish, as is also CRONBERRY and DARNCONNER, both populous mining villages, the former about 1 mile north-east, and the latter 2 miles north west from Lugar. There are stations at the two former places on the Ayr, Mauchline, and Muirkirk section of railway.

GALSTON AND NEIGHBOURHOOD.

GALSTON is a parish of 15,300 acres, in the district of Kyle-Stewart ; the town is situated on the left bank of the Irvine, on the road from Edinburgh to Ayr, and from Dumfries to Glasgow; it is 22 miles s. from the latter city, 16 n.n.e. of Ayr, and 5 from Kilmarnock, seated in a hollow, sheltered on all sides by rising grounds. The parish extends about 13 miles in length, by from 4 to 5 in breath; lying in the upper part of the county, contiguous to Lanarkshire, and separated by the Irvine from the parish of Loudon on the north, Mauchline and Sorn bounding it on the south. The annual fairs are on the third Thursday in April, the first Thursday in June, and the last Wednesday in November.

GIRVAN AND NEIGHBOURHOOD.

GIRVAN is a parish of 15,000 acres, in the district of Carrick—the town, a burgh of barony, is 90 miles w.s.w of Edinburgh, 50 s.w. of Glasgow, 35 n.n.w. of Portpatrick, 31 n.n.e. of Stranraer, 21 s. by w. of Ayr, 13 n. by e. of Ballantrae, 12 s.s.w of Maybole, and 6 s.w. of Dailly, situated on the left bank of the Garvan or Girvan, near to its influx with the sea, and at a point exactly opposite the islet called AILSA CRAIG. The trade in coal and lime is important—the mines of the former and the quarries of the latter being numerous in the neighbourhood. The principal trade of the place is herring fishing, which occurs twice a year, beginning in December and May. Girvan is a station on the Ayr, Maybole, and Girvan branch of the Glasgow and South-Western Railiway, and the Girvan and Portpatrick line. A market, chiefly for grain, is held on Monday ; and the fairs are on the first Mondays of April and October, for stock hiring servants, and general business.

I R V I N E,

With the Parish of DREGHORN and Neighbourhoods.

IRVINE, a royal burgh, is the seat of a presbytery, a seaport, in the district of Cunningham. The town is situated on a rising ground on the north bank of the river Irine, about a mile from its junction with the Garnock water and the sea, and upon the line of the Glasgow and South-Western Railway. Distance from Edinburgh, 67 miles w.s.w.; 25 s.s.w. of Glasgow; 11 n. of Ayr; 11 s. of Beith; and 7 w. of Kilmarnock.

Irvine unites with Ayr, and with Campbeltown, Inveraray, and Oban in Argyleshire, in returning one member to parliament, who is styled the member for the Ayr Burghs. The market is held on Monday, and the fairs on the first Tuesday in May and the third Monday in August. On the south side of the river is an extensive suburb called FULLARTON, but in the parish of Dundonald.

DREGHORN is a parish in Cunningham district, situated about 2 miles E. of Irvine, on the rivers Irvine and Annock, and is a station on the Glasgow and South-Western Railway. The parish, which is about nine miles in length, and extends from one to three in breadth.

K I L M A R N O C K.

With the Villages of CROOKEDHOLM, RICCARTON, HURLFORD, KILMAURS, FENWICK, ROSE FENWICK, CRAIGIE, and Neighbourhoods.

KILMARNOCK, is a large and important manufacturing town in the parish of that name, and district of Cunningham,  $65\frac{1}{2}$  miles s.w. of Edinburgh (through Glasgow), 21 s.w. from Glasgow, 12 n. by e. from Ayr and between 6 and 7 e. by n., from Irvine ; situated on level ground near the confluence of the Kilmarnock water with the Irvine. An extensive trade is carried on in the manufacture of Shoes for exportation. The iron trade may be now be said to be the staple trade of the town, and there are many large machine-making and iron-founding establishments. This town joins with Dumbarton, Port-Glasgow, Renfrew, and Rutherglen in returning one member to Parliament.

The market, which is held on Friday, is abundantly supplied with every necessary article of domestic consumption, including grain and cattle. Fairs are held for cattle, the second Tuesday in May, last Thursday in July, and the last Thursday in October, for horses. The cheese show and fair, held at the end of October, is affirmed to be the largest in the kingdom, and is attended by dealers from all parts of the country. The October show is purely an agricultural one. About the middle of April, a large show of cattle has been held for years. It ranks next to the great Ayr show.

The parish of RICCARTON is in the district of Kyle, lying on the left, or south, bank of the Irvine river, which separates it from Kilmarnock. The village stands on an eminence, a mile to the south of that town. The parish extends about six miles in length, by between two and three in breadth, and includes the village of HURLFORD.

KILMAURS is a parish in the district of Cunningham ; the town, a small one and burgh of barony, is two miles from Kilmarnock.

FENWICK is a parish in the district of Cunningham, about 9 miles in length, by 6 in breadth, is situated about 3 miles n. by e. from Kilmarnock, on the banks of the Mehernock stream, on the road to Glasgow.

There is another village, sometimes called ROSE FENWICK, on the same road about a quarter of a mile s. from Fenwick. Cattle fairs are held on the first Wednesday in May and first Tuesday in November.

CRAIGIE is a small village about 4 miles s. from Kilmarnock.

LARGS AND FAIRLIE.

LARGS is a town and sea-bathing place, in the parish of that name, 70 miles w. by s. from Edinburgh, 30 s.w. from Glasgow, 14 s. from Greenock, and 20 n. from Irvine; situated on the Firth of Clyde, in the northern extremity of the county. It is now one of the favourite retreats on the western coast, for ruralising and bathing, the communication with Glasgow and other large towns on this side of the country being rendered convenient and expeditious by means of steamboats, which ply daily on the Clyde; or by rail from Port-Glasgow, or Greenock, to Wemyss Bay, thence by boat to Largs, a distance of about six miles from the latter place. A line of railway is formed, thus making a direct communication, via Ardrossan, to Glasgow. During the summer season it is enlivened by the presence of a great number of visitors.

FAIRLIE is a small village in the parish of, and about  $2\frac{1}{2}$  miles from, Largs. Considerable business is done here in boat building, being noted for the beauty of build, and excellent sailing qualities of the yachts launched from the various yards.

MAYBOLE

And the Village of CULROY or MINISHANT.

MAYBOLE is a post town, the capital of its parish and of the district of Carrick, 87 miles s.w. from Edinburgh, 52 n. by e. from Portpatrick, 44 s.s.w. from Glasgow, 25 n. from Ballantrae, 22 s. by w. from Kilmarnock, 12 n. by e. from Girvan, and 9 s. from Ayr. The principal business carried on here is the manufacture of boots and shoes; there are also two works for the manufacture of agricultural implements, and weaving is still carried on to some extent for Glasgow houses. The town is governed by the police commissioners. The market is held on Thursday, and fairs on the third Thursday in January, April, July, and October, CULROY or MINISHANT is a small village in the parish of Maybole, three miles and a half from that town, on the road to Ayr, from which it is five miles and a half distant. A manufactory for woollen goods is established in this village.

SALTOATS AND STEVENSTON.

SALTOATS, a seaport town, is situated partly in the parish of Ardrossan, and partly in the parish of Stevenston; it lies between these towns, and is less than a mile from each, 74 miles s.s.w from Edinburgh, 30 s.s.w. from Glasgow, 19 n. from Ayr, and 14 w. by n. from Kilmarnock. It is a place of great resort for summer residents from all quarters, and the communication by express and ordinary trains offering special facilities for daily travellers in summer. In the beginning of last century a harbour was constructed for the shipment of coal, of which one of the most extensive fields in Scotland lies in this immediate neighbourhood. Saltoats is now a much more flourishing town than ever it was in former days. In 1886 the town was made a Burgh by the adoption of "The General Police and Improvements (Scotland) Act, 1862." Saltoats is much resorted to for sea bathing, the extensive sandy beach on each side of the town being particularly suitable, the water being considered strong and pure.

STEVENSTON is a mining village, one mile from Saltoats, and three from Kilwinning. The parish abounds in valuable seams of coal. The parish contains 4,268 acres.

STAIR (SEE TARBOLTON).

---

STEWARTON, DUNLOP,
 And Neighbourhoods.

STEWARTON is a parish of 13,667 acres, in the district of Cunningham. The town is 16 miles s. by w. from Glasgow, 8 n. from Irvine, 5 n. from Kilmarnock, and 3 from Fenwick; situated on the banks of the water of Annock, close to a station on the Glasgow, Barrhead, and Kilmarnock Joint Railway. The parish, which is about ten miles in length, and varying from three to four in breadth, is a rich agricultural district. Three woollen mills are engaged in carding and spinning for the carpet and bonnet trades. The staple articles of manufacture are Scotch bonnets and military forage caps, and boots, shoes, and hosiery. The market is held on Thursday. Fairs are held on the Thursday before the first Friday in January, and on Monday next before the first Thursday in May, for horses, cattle, and farm and dairy produce; and on the Wednesday before the last Thursday in October, for the like commodities, and for stock and agricultural and dairy utensils, also for hiring servants.

DUNLOP is a village, two miles and a-half from Stewarton, situated on banks of the Glazert, on the road leading from Kilmarnock to Paisley. The parish, to which the village gives name, lies principally on the bailiary of Cunningham, and County of Ayr, but on the north it extends into Renfrewshire. It has long been noted for the excellent quality of its cheese, which bears a high character throughout Scotland. Several firms are also engaged in ham curing. Two fairs for the sale of dairy stock are held, one about the middle of May, the other on the 12th of November, both are generally well attended.

TROON, DUNDONALD, AND SYMINGTON.

TROON, a seaport in the parish of Dundonald, is situated 75 miles s.w. from Edinburgh, 31 s.w. from Glasgow, 7 s. from Irvine, and 9 s.w. from Kilmarnock. The town, in addition to the prosperity derived from its commerce as a port, it enjoys the advantage of being visited, in the bathing season, by numerous families.

DUNDONALD is a parish on the sea coast, in the district of Carrick, extending 8 miles along the shore, from the water of Irvine towards the south, and containing about 13,405 acres. The village, situated about  $4\frac{1}{2}$  miles from Troon, which is also in this parish.

SYMINGTON is a parish of about 3,737 acres in the Kyle district, bounded by Monkton on the south and Dundonald on the south, the village being about 2 miles from the latter.

D U M F R I E S H I R E.

DUMFRIESSHIRE is a large and important county in the south of Scotland, bounded on the east by the counties of Roxburgh and Selkirk; on the north-west by Ayrshire; on the south-west by the Stewartry (or county) of Kirkcudbright; and on the north by the counties of Lanark, Peebles, and part of Selkirk: its south and south-eastern boundary is washed by the Solway Firth, and its south-eastern base is skirted by Roxburgh and the English county of Cumberland. The length of the county from north-west to south-east, is nearly 55 miles, and its breadth from the south to the north is 30 miles. It has an area of 1,103 square miles, or 705,946 acres of land. Dumfriesshire is famed for agriculture, the land is well tilled and drained, strongly fenced, and produces good crops. About 216,310 acres are under cultivation; though changeable and moist, the climate is mild. The Nith, the Annan, and the Esk, are the chief rivers. From these rivers the principal divisions of the county obtain their names. The Nith is 60 miles in length, the Annan is 40 miles in length, and the Esk is 35 miles in length. Dumfriesshire possesses 44 parishes, which are divided into 5 Presbyteries and 1 Synod. There are 4 Royal Burghs in the county—Dumfries, Annan, Sauquhar, and Lochmaben, and 6 Burghs of Barony—Moffat, Lockerbie, Langholm, Ecclefechan, Thornhill, and Moniavie. The county at large, sends one Member to Parliament, and the Royal Burghs above mentioned, join with Kirkcudbright in returning another Representative. The present Member for the county is Sir Robert Jardine, Bart., of Castlemilk. The Valuation of the county (exclusive of Railways) £556,771, and of Railways £60,754.

NATIONAL PROVIDENT INSTITUTION

Estd. 1835.

FOR

Estd. 1835.

MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE.

Accumulated Funds exceeds,	-	£4,500,000
Claims Paid exceed,	-	8,000,000
Profits Declared exceed,	-	4,000,000

Profits.—The WHOLE are divided every Five Years amongst the Members, and are applied, either to reduce the Premiums, or to increase the Sum Assured, or they may be taken in cash.

For the Five Years ending 20th November, 1887, a cash profit of £612,900 was apportioned amongst the Members, being more than 38 per cent. of the amount paid in Premiums during the previous Five Years.

There were then 548 Policies in respect of which not only were the Premiums entirely extinguished, but also Annuities were granted or Cash Bonus paid, whilst in the case of many Policies the original sums assured are now more than doubled by the Bonus Additions.

The following examples of Claims Paid by the Institution during the preceding year were cited by the Chairman at the last Annual Meeting, as illustrating on the one hand how perfect a means Life Assurance affords to them who need to make some immediate provision for their families in case of death; and on the other hand how greatly the (ultimate) cost of Life Assurance is lessened in such an Office as the NATIONAL PROVIDENT INSTITUTION, by the periodical distribution amongst the policyholders of the whole of the profits of the business.

Policies that had been in force less than a Year.

Policy No.	Amount of Policy.	Amount paid in Premiums.
51,713	£500	£16 16 8
52,273	100	3 0 9
52,576	200	4 8 2

Policies that had been in force over Fifty Years, and on which the Profits have been applied to reduce the Premiums.

Policy No.	Amount of Policy.	Amount paid in Premiums.
£117	£1500	£904 2 7
817	500	330 17 0
1274	300	186 14 2

The NEXT DIVISION OF PROFITS will be made on the 20th Nov. 1892 and all Policies then in force will participate.

Endowment-Assurance Policies, combining Life Assurance at Minimum Cost, with provision for Old Age.

THIS County, which forms the western part of the district of Galloway, occupies the south-west extremity of Scotland. It is bounded on the east by the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright (or Eastern Galloway), also by Wigtown Bay; on the south and west it is girded by the Irish Sea, and on the north by Ayrshire. The extent of the County, from north to south, is 30 miles, and (including Luce Bay), its breadth is the same. The superficial contents of the County is 480 square miles. The district is divided into Upper and Lower Galloway, designates, the Northern and Southern parts of the Shire. Wigtownshire ranks the seventeenth in point of size, and the twenty-second in population, of the Scottish Counties. The great industry in the County, is the manufacture of cheese by the farmers of the Rhinns district of the County. The principal rivers are, the Cree, the Bladnoch, and the Tarf. The mountains and their elevations above the sea, are, Lang, 1758 feet, Mochrum Fell, 1020 feet, Knock of Luce, 1014 feet, and Barhullion, 814 feet. The Caledonian Railway has communications with other towns and counties. Wigtownshire comprises 17 parishes and 3 royal burghs, viz.:—Wigtown, Stranraer, and Whithorn. The County sends one representative to Parliament—Sir Henry Eustace Maxwell, Bart. The Earl of Stair, K.T., is Lord Lieutenant of the county. The burghs of barony of the County are, Newton-Stewart, Garlieston, Kirkcowan, Glenluce, and Portpatrick. The valuation of the County is £207,330, and Railways, £4,099.
